Cummings: Ministers are f**kpigs

NO10 spin doctor Dominic Cummings called ministers “useless f**kpigs, morons, c**ts” during the pandemic, the COVID Inquiry heard yesterday.

Boris Johnson was described as an indecisive “trolley”, Cummings also alleged as he hit out at a “dysfunctional” system during the pandemic.

Mr Cummings, who was Mr Johnson’s top adviser, took aim at the Government during the “nightmare” of the pandemic.

Appearing in an unironed shirt, he had to apologise for calling ministers “useless f**kpigs, morons, c**ts” but said his language “understated” their competence.

He described the Cabinet Office as a “bomb site” and a “dumpster fire” where many people were in the wrong job when he took up his role as adviser in 2019.

BP profits hit ‘only’ £2.7bn

ENERGY giant BP has reported lower than expected profits despite global oil prices rising.

The company posted profits of $3.3bn (£2.7bn) between July and September, lower than predictions of $4bn.

Its earnings were down from $8.1bn in 2022 when BP made huge profits following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine, which led to oil prices soaring.

Oil prices are currently lower than that period, but have risen recently.

BP said while oil production was strong, gas trading had been “weak” in recent months.

FLOODY HELL!

FLOODING hit parts of Northern Ireland yesterday as police urged people against travelling due to an amber rain alert.

More than 25 flood warnings have been issued for the UK before Storm Ciaran is forecast to bring strong winds and heavy rain to parts of England and Wales.

The Met Office warning issued yesterday for Northern Ireland was the second highest level and covers Counties Antrim, Down and Armagh.

It forecasts persistent heavy rain leading to flooding and transport disruption, while a yellow warning covers the rest of Northern Ireland.

There were reports of flooding in Newry in Co Down after the city’s canal burst its banks. The Met Office has warned of between 25mm and 50mm of rain and up to 100mm is also possible over higher ground.

The Police Service of Northern Ireland said: “Persistent heavy rain will lead to further flooding.

“Please stay at home where possible and do not make unnecessary journeys. If you must travel, please bear the prevailing conditions in mind.”

Across the UK, the Environment Agency has issued more than 25 flood warnings ahead of the arrival of Storm Ciaran today, while the Met Office has issued yellow weather warnings for rain in effect until Thursday.

Gusts of 80mph are possible along the south coast of England, with 20 to 25mm of rain across southern and western areas, but potentially up to 40 to 60mm over higher ground, the Met Office said.

The forecaster advises the latest rain could lead to disruption to roads and public transport while already flood-affected areas after Storm Babet could get worse.

Sunak stays ‘ambitious’ before poll

RISHI Sunak said his Government remained “ambitious” as he laid out plans for the King’s Speech which is expected to set the tone for a general election next year.

The Prime Minister opened a meeting of his Cabinet by saying the speech would focus on measures to “grow the economy, to strengthen society and to keep people safe”.

The King is expected to open the new session of Parliament on Tuesday November 7, the first time he will have done so as monarch.

Mr Sunak said the last session of Parliament had been “historic”, pointing to legislation including: the Illegal Migration Act – to make progress on “stopping the boats”; the Retained EU Law Act for “seizing the opportunities of Brexit”; the Online Safety Act and the Northern Ireland Troubles (Legacy and Reconciliation) Act, as key new laws.

“We will keep demonstrating we are ambitious for what we want to achieve,” he told his ministers.

claiming that laying down arms would be akin to America doing the same after 9/11.

Israel has celebrated the release of a soldier held captive by Hamas militants after troops and tanks pushed deeper into Gaza.

But the UN is warning that air strikes are hitting closer to hospitals, where tens of thousands of Palestinians have sought shelter alongside thousands of wounded.

Humanitarian pauses have the aim of providing aid or allowing people to leave a region, rather than achieving long-term solutions, according to the United Nations.

Ceasefires are intended to be long-term and usually seek to allow parties to engage in talks, including the possibility of reaching a permanent political settlement.

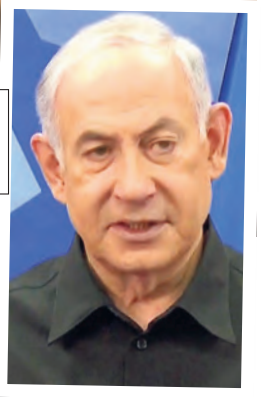

In the UK, both Labour and the Conservatives have grappled with rebellious MPs who have called for a full ceasefire.

Both the Government and the Opposition have voiced support for a humanitarian pause in the conflict.

More UK firms set to go bust

THERE has been a sharp rise in the number of UK companies at risk of going bust.

The number of firms in “critical financial distress” jumped by 25% in the last three months, according to insolvency experts Begbies Traynor.

They are defined as having county court judgments exceeding £5,000 against them – often a precursor to going under.

Government data has confirmed the bleak picture as firms battle higher prices and lower demand.

These official insolvency figures revealed that 2023 is on course to see the highest number of company failures since the depths of the financial crisis in 2009.

HEAD-CHOPPERS ‘TO GET WORLD CUP’

SAUDI Arabia is poised to host the 2034 World Cup after Australia announced it would not bid to host it.

Earlier this month, the repressive dictatorship presented a letter of intent to FIFA after football’s governing body announced that it wanted only bidders from Asia and Oceania.

And Saudi Arabia is unlikely to face any competition after Football

Australia announced it had decided against bidding.

“We have explored the opportunity to bid to host the FIFA World Cup and – having taken all factors into consideration – we have reached the conclusion not to do so for the 2034 competition,” Football Australia said.

Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman – who is also the kingdom’s PM – has been a key figure in the Kingdom’s bid. Saudi Arabia getting the World Cup is likely to cause a storm, given the country’s abysmal human rights record.

Countries hoping to host the 2034 World Cup must table a signed bidding agreement must by November 30.

FIFA members will then have the chance to rubber-stamp the 2030 and 2034 hosts in late 2024.

CORRIE CATH PANTIES-SNIFF HORROR

TARGET: Actress Cath (right) and (above) house she is flogging

WHEN former Coronation Street actress Catherine Tyldesley put her house on the market, the last thing she expected was a perv dreaming of sniffing her PANTIES.

But that's exactly what happened...

The former soap star and her hubby Tom Pitfield are asking £875,000 for their immaculately presented four-bedroom detached house on a quiet tree-lined cul-de-sac in the Gtr Manchester area.

Estate agents' pics reveal the stunning interior of the former Strictly contestant's home which recently had an extension built at the rear.

She has not disclosed her reasons for selling the mortgaged property and what her future plans are.

Land Registry records reveal that Catherine and her husband, a former fitness trainer, paid £500,000 in May 2016 for the home.

And while a successful sale would result in a nice payday for the couple, the shine on their investment must have been sullied by the vile panties remark.

Naturally enough, the comment was made on the Daily Mail's website which reported on the pending sale of the family home.

A user called Horace Beancroft rasped: "I would be heading for her underwear drawer immediately as soon as I got in the house."

A pal said: "Moving house is one of life's most-stressful events so the thought of some pervert sniffing Cath's little white panties during a viewing is the last thing she needs."

"I hope estate agents conducting viewings would be on the lookout for this kind of thing and nip it in the bud."

The panty-sniffing woe comes after a PR company working for Catherine tried to blag some free cakes for her 40th birthday party.

Linehan: we won't enjoy another Ted

FATHER Ted creator Graham Linehan says he feels there has been a "chilling effect" on comedies due to a "sudden atmosphere of censoriousness".

The BAFTA-winning writer, 55 (above), who also wrote TV sitcoms The IT Crowd and Black Books, has faced a recent backlash for being a vocal critic of trans rights.

Speaking about the success of his shows, Graham said: "I think everyone's beginning to realise, it was kind of the golden years for British comedy."

"And I'm getting a bit nervous now that this kind of wealth of comedy that we might not see again for a while, because of the sudden atmosphere of censoriousness and what you might call a kind of 'psychotic politeness' that means that you're not allowed to make fun of anyone."

Cost-of-living boost for 8m

MILLIONS of low-income households across the UK are starting to receive the latest instalment of cost-of-living payments.

Eight million people on means-tested benefits, such as Universal Credit, will receive £300 directly by November 19, without the need to make a claim.

It is the second of three instalments that will eventually total £900.

All will be paid directly into eligible recipients' bank accounts, as MPs look into whether the payments are supporting those most in need.

THE wet little shits!

We are used to soppy millennials whining about everything, but now they're coming after on-screen SEX!

So-called Generation Z milksops – many of whom cannot even decide if they are a boy or a girl – reckon there's too much romance and rutting on TV shows and in films.

The 'Teens and Screens' survey from the University of California, Los Angeles, found that 50% of 1,500 young participants want to see more content on "friendships".

And 40% desire non-romantic or asexual characters on screen, as they feel that romance in media is overused.

"When there's media with too much sex, me and my friends often feel uncomfortable," said 16-year-old respondent Ana.

The research team has coined the term "nomance" to label this trend.

"Our findings demonstrate the variety of qualities adolescents are looking for in storytelling – from more authentic storylines that reflect their experiences to a diverse spectrum of relationships, young people are letting it be known what it is that they want," said Yalda T. Uhls, founder and director of The Centre for Scholars & Storytellers, and co-author of the study.

To this latest eruption of prudish nonsense from today's youngsters, we say: "BOLLOCKS!"

Friends stars devastated by Perry's death

THE cast of Friends say they are "utterly devastated" by the loss of their fellow star Matthew Perry, who died at the weekend at the age of 54.

In a joint statement, Jennifer Aniston, Courteney Cox, Matt LeBlanc, David Schwimmer and Lisa Kudrow said it was an "unfathomable loss".

The Friends actor (above), who played Chandler Bing in the sitcom, was reportedly found unresponsive in a hot tub at his Los Angeles home on Saturday.

Perry's post-mortem examination was inconclusive and officials are awaiting the results of toxicology tests.

"We are all so utterly devastated by the loss of Matthew," his former co-stars said in a statement.

"We were more than just castmates, we are a family. There is so much to say, but right now we're going to take a moment to grieve and process this unfathomable loss.

"In time we will say more, when we're able."

60k pay Ulez daily charge

AROUND 60,000 vehicle owners a day are paying the £12.50 fee for entering London's expanded ultra low emission zone, new figures show.

A report published by Transport for London revealed that 93,700 vehicles that failed to meet minimum emissions standards were driven in the capital on an average day in the first month after the expansion on August 29.

Some 36% were exempt, leaving around 60,000 – including those owned by private motorists and businesses – liable for the £12.50 daily charge.

That is 3% of the total number of vehicles recorded as being driven in London each day.

Enforcement action is taken in response to around 3% of non-compliant vehicles due to the Ulez charge not being paid.

TfL receives £730,000 a day in Ulez fees.

TWO police officers had sex with a drunken woman in a patrol car after she was kicked out of a nightclub, a court heard.

PC Matthew Longmate, 47, was on duty with PC Daniel Nash, 41, in Chesterfield town centre when they offered the woman a lift home following an incident at the Association Bar.

Prosecutor Polly Dyer said the woman recalls having intercourse with Nash while she performed a sex act on colleague Longmate in 2015.

Nash has since admitted misconduct in relation to the incident and to other offences of misconduct, jurors were told.

"He has subsequently succumbed to cancer and passed away," said Ms Dyer. Longmate denies one charge of misconduct.

Forget

Ms Dyer told jurors at Southwark Crown Court the woman contacted police in 2020.

"She did so to complain about contact from Daniel Nash. That contact included him reminding her of an event from 2015, an event that she had wanted to forget.

"As she came to disclose to the police, some years before she was ejected from a club in Chesterfield City Centre.

"Following her ejection, she was offered a lift home by two police officers who were outside the club. They were on duty, in uniform and in a police car.

"She recalled that enroute to her home, she engaged in sexual activity with both officers in the police car.

"She could remember being in the back of the police car, having vaginal intercourse with the officer she now knew to be Daniel Nash while leaning into the front of the car and giving the other officer oral sex.

"The woman was extremely

CANCER VICTIM:

drunk. She did not remember consenting to what took place, but assumed she must have done.

"She expressed how extremely embarrassed she was, and the fact she would never have acted in this way had she been sober."

She said of the officers: "They used their position as police officers."

"Offered her a lift home and then used that opportunity to engage in sexual activity with a woman who was extremely vulnerable and in need of their protection, by virtue of her drunken state and the fact she had been involved in an incident which had attracted the attention of the police."

"There is no dispute that such activity amounts to misconduct in public office, undermining and abusing the trust the public have in police officers."

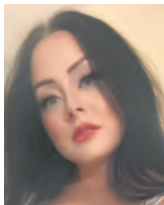

The trial is expected to last until the end of the week.

A SECOND teacher at a small high school has been suspended for having an OnlyFans account.

Megan Gaither, 31 (above), is an English teacher and cheerleading coach at St. Clair High School in St Clair, Missouri, but she was placed on leave after a student put a note under her classroom door saying they "knew her secret".

The married teacher had been working at the school for four years and said she started her raunchy page to supplement her income – just like her colleague Brianna Coppage, who was exposed last month.

The teacher, who received a £40k salary last year, said that she "hid very well behind an alias with no face pictures", but she was outed against her will.

On OnlyFans, she was making up to £5,000 every month.

After Ms Coppage was outed, Gaither deactivated her OnlyFans account, which had about 1,500 subscribers.

Nude girl: my kit burned off

A NAKED woman was arrested and charged with public intoxication after claiming her clothes had burned off.

Cops were dispatched to Locke's Market in Green Hill, Tennessee, after receiving reports of a nude female.

Officers made contact with the woman, later identified as Halle Denise Ferrell, 22, and attempted to help her.

Ferrell told officers her clothes had been on fire and she had to get out of them.

Based on her actions, cops and paramedics observed she was clearly under the influence of something.

Ferrell was arrested for her safety and the safety of the public.

She was sentenced to six months on probation and ordered to do an alcohol and drug assessment, and pay costs for the charge of indecent exposure.

Psychiatrists diagnosed him with schizophrenia after concluding he did the self-mutilation while suffering from delusions.

Doctors at La Rabta Hospital in Tunis said they believe the case is the first involving a schizophrenic man inserting an object into his scrotum.

After being quizzed by doctors, the patient admitted inserting two nails into his scrotum, one of which measured three inches.

After their removal, he was discharged and referred to a psychiatric department.

READING illiterate gibberish can kill you STONE DEAD!

Research finds when people are subjected to poor grammar, it actually causes them stress, and even initiates a "fight or flight" response.

A lack of proper speech or penmanship sets off several triggers within the automatic nervous system – a network that controls the body's unconscious processes, according to the University of Birmingham.

Heart rate variability, which measures the time in between beats, was used as the primary metric to determine how linguistic liabilities impact a person's physical being.

When relaxed, HRV is less regimented and it only becomes regular during times of stress.

The more grammatical errors a person heard coincided with the strict regularity of their heartbeat – an indication of stress.

A MARRIED man has been busted for trying to arrange a threesome with a hooker and a SHETLAND PONY.

Jad Shipman, 48, allegedly offered an online escort £400 to come to his home in Longview, Washington state, and "have sexual contact with him and his miniature horse," according to a probable cause affidavit.

"I want to watch a gal eat out the miniature horse that I have while sitting on my male member," he is said to have written to the woman in twisted messages she later shared with vice squad detectives.

Comfort

"The last two gals I asked said it was noticeably outside their comfort zone," he added, while appearing eager to speed up the exchange, to take advantage of his marital home being empty.

Shipman contacted the woman, only identified as "Diane," through TNA Board, which is used "for prostitution and other commercial sex purposes," cops said.

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Shipman used the site under the name "TheMalamute," a breed of dog known for its strength and size.

When the Bellevue vice squad called on Shipman's home, they found two miniature horses in nearby fields, which the accused fetishist's wife confirmed were both theirs.

During an interview, Shipman "admitted to being TNA Board user 'TheMalamute' and soliciting 'Diane' to 'eat out' or 'lick' one of his miniature horses's 'private parts,'" the affidavit stated.

"Shipman admitted to having prior sexual contact with animals, the affidavit said.

He also told investigators he chose "Diane" because she posted "under the 'fetish' section and he hoped that she would be more agreeable to having sexual contact with him and his miniature horse".

Shipman was arrested and booked into the Cowlitz County Jail on one count of first-degree attempted animal cruelty and one count of patronising a prostitute.

Meth head tried to fight binmen

A MAN said he smoked meth and weed before harassing BINMEN.

Cops were called after the rubbish collectors complained they were being bothered by Edward Appleby, 30, in Barrigada on the Pacific island of Guam, a US territory.

Appleby allegedly tried to fight the binmen while they were on their usual collection route, but they refused, backed away, called cops and drove off.

When located by police, Appleby was naked and wielding a large stick while walking in the middle of a road.

He had to be shocked with a stun gun and it took several officers to handcuff him because of his resistance.

Appleby is now facing charges of indecent exposure, resisting arrest, harassment and disorderly conduct.

JILLY: I FORGET HOW TO DO SEX

NAUGHTY author Jilly Cooper says she has "forgotten" how to do SEX.

The 86-year-old (below) explained how she found the process of writing another book for her most popular series, including how she tackled writing sex scenes.

Her new book, Tackle! follows aristocrat Rupert Campbell-Black as he becomes the chairman of a football club, masterminding its rise to the top with "help from the club's ravishing and adorable secretary Tember West".

He also has to deal with a "sassy press officer" and "glamorous WAGs" lusting over him as he vies for success.

Jilly said her editors at Penguin had asked her to include more sex scenes, and to make them longer.

She said: "They want me to have more sex in bits of the novel."

"I thought I was quite good at sex, but I think I've forgotten how to do it!"

Jilly recently said of her bestselling 1985 novel Riders: "I went back and read it - there's far too much sex really."

Social worker on gun charge after teen sex

A SOCIAL worker charged with unlawful sexual conduct with a 13-year-old boy she was counselling is now accused of showing up to the victim's home with a GUN.

Charging documents said the mother of the teenage lad saw Payton Shires, 24 (above), on her camera inside her home, when she was out of the house.

Officers arrived at the property and saw Shires sitting on the front porch of the home. She threatened self-harm with a gun to her head.

Shires, of Mount Sterling, Ohio, now faces two charges of felony third-degree victim intimidation.

She was indicted on unlawful sexual conduct with a minor earlier this month. A search warrant on the lad's mobile phone allegedly shows a video of the social worker and teen having sex.

HOW do you know someone is a vegan?

It's OK, they've already told you.

In defiance of God and nature, there are some who refuse to accept that human beings are omnivores and require a good serving of meat – as well as two veg – to keep them happy and healthy.

That is, of course, their right but vegans, who eschew all animal products, try to evangelise on behalf of their warped creed.

And today is World Vegan Day, where nut munchers worldwide attempt to meat-shame us into ditching our beloved bacon, juicy lamb chops, life-giving roast beef and even delicious offal.

Good luck with that, seeing as the alternative is a dismal life slurping quinoa and gnawing on roots.

To mark World Vegan Day, we prove the old maxim – the only good vegan is one with her bare boobs out...

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I think about going down on another babe'

I HAVE always considered myself straight but lately I can't stop ogling other women!

I'm suddenly aware of how many hotties there are walking around.

I think the seed was planted when I was on holiday in Gran Canaria last year in a gay club and a drop dead gorgeous Latino lady came up to me and started chatting me up.

I politely declined, but I'd found her so attractive.

All I could think about for the rest of the break was what she'd look like in a bikini and how amazing it would feel with her touching me as I swam in the sea.

It gave me a real lady boner! I thought why did I say no?

Yes, I want to settle down with a guy eventually, but why not give myself permission to explore this other side of my sexuality in the meantime?

Now I notice sexy women everywhere... in the street, the supermarket and on the Tube.

And I think about kissing their soft lips before working my way down their necks and sucking on their nipples.

I think about going down on a girl all the time, too, and how a real lesbian would be SO good at licking me out!

I'm just kind of not sure how to flirt with another woman.

I need a really confident, experienced girl who can take control of things.

I think I will set up an online dating profile and my headline will have to be 'big boobed and bi-curious'.

THE body of a slain model was found inside her refrigerator, with her mouth gagged and wrists and ankles bound together, while traces of cocaine were found in her system.

The LA County Medical Examiner's Office had ruled Maleesa Mooney's death "homicidal violence" earlier this month, but the grisly details of how the 31-year old's remains were discovered in her Downtown LA home have just been released in an autopsy report.

Coroners found blunt force injuries to Mooney's face, head, back and upper arm.

Toxicology results also showed she had benzoylecgonine, a cocaine metabolite, in her system, as well as a mix of cocaethylene and ethanol.

Mooney (above) was found dead in her South Figueroa Street apartment on September 12 after her mother called cops to perform a welfare check on the model.

Fact me!

VOLVO gave away the 1962 patent for their revolutionary three-point seat belt for free. The car company did this to save lives.

A MOTHER fed up with her two sons' freeloading ways has won an unusual court case to have the pair of "parasites" evicted from her home.

The plaintiff, identified only as a 75-year-old retiree living in Pavia, Italy, filed a lawsuit accusing her sons, aged 40 and 42, of overstaying their welcome.

Both grown men, who the disgruntled mum labelled "parasites" in the court filing, are employed but have continued living in her apartment rent-free.

The mother is separated from her husband and lives off her pension, all of which goes towards the home's upkeep and food.

But the sons have not been contributing financially, or even helping around the house with chores, the lawsuit claimed.

Judge Simona Caterbi sided with the mother, ruling that the sons have until December 18 to move out.

The 26-year-old model, who married pop star Justin Bieber, 29, in 2018, said she has been watching the 1990s show for the first time when she is falling asleep and has been left astounded by its nudity.

Hailey revealed: "It's way raunchier than I thought it was going to be – there are titties out all the time!"

However, the beauty said she identified with all the show's characters.

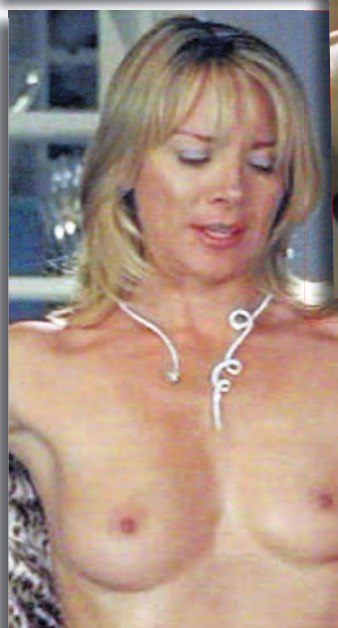

She added: "I identify with each of them for different reasons. Shucks, sometimes I think Charlotte's wide-eyed innocence reminds me of me when I was a younger."

"Just kind of everything is like, 'Well, why don't you just try this?'"

But Hailey added she also relates to Sarah Jessica Parker's lead Carrie character due to her persistence and love of fashion and that she connected with how Samantha "absolutely doesn't give a f**k", but "underneath it all, she actually does really care a lot".

Hailey went on: "And then, who's the last one? Miranda. I feel like she is just the super-brains, analytical one in the situation. I'm also very analytical, so I kind of identify with that."

Hailey's surprise over the Sex and the City content comes despite her moving to New York at the age of 17 and being plunged into the city's party scene.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Tragic Matthew & the price of fame

"YOU can do whatever you want to me, just make me famous."

Those words were the prayer, once, of a young unknown actor called Matthew Perry.

And we all know what happened next.

The worldwide fame. The 24-hour stardom. The £1m-an-episode.

The easy mateyness with the likes of Johnny Depp, Brad Pitt, Bruce Willis.

The stunning array of celebrity dates including seriously top-notch women whose movies the world was clambering over itself to watch.

The Friends star went out with – and then dumped – Pretty Woman.

Yes, THAT one. He went out with that stunning brunette outta Scream, too.

No, not Courteney Cox – he only got to constantly snog her on their TV show – but the other one, who exchanged mouth juice with Denise Richards in Wild Things.

He once fumbled with Gwyneth Paltrow in what we in the UK would call a wardrobe.

And he dated Yasmine Bleeth, which is an older name in showbiz but best remembered for jogging along a beach in red boob-busting Baywatch swimwear.

Bucket

He was basically doing what the rest of us mere mortal males would consider a bucket list.

But for all that, as recent as last year, according to his own autobiography, he described himself as being a very alone 50-something.

A "schmuck" with multimillions in the bank and a great view of the world that lay, as we like to say, at his feet.

But he meant it almost literally, as he lived on a Californian hillside with the tantalising sprawl of Los Angeles spread out below.

Yet, somehow, he had no-one to share it with.

We all like to think how marvellous it would be to be famous, but people only think what fame can do for them rather than what it won't.

Just imagine the difficulty of something as simple as going out for the night and needing a wee.

To you and I, that means mumbling something about going to the loo, getting there, weeing, zipping back up, wash hands, and return.

But if you're famous – as in, world-staggeringly famous, when almost every other person on the planet knows your name – it's a whole different ball game.

You have to clear the toilet of any other patrons first because, otherwise, inevitably, someone will whip out a phone and photograph your knob.

Or, worse still, that wee spot on your trousers because of a hurried shake will go around the world faster than the flu.

TikTok or Snapchat or X or whatever will happily suck it up and cheerfully beam it to infinity and beyond.

Or, if you've just hooked up with a new girlfriend – whether she's from Baywatch or Burger King – the internet will zing for hours and days and weeks about your love life.

Does the new girl look good?

Is she right for you?

And are you right for her?

Aren't you getting on a bit?

Aren't you too chubby now?

Bent

People will speculate whether your Johnson is large or small, or bent a bit, or – like Michael Jackson – looks a bit odd and may or may not find itself in the wrong places.

Fame is indeed a cruel and unrelenting mistress – a hurtling runaway train from which you cannot ever disembark.

Just ask Britney Spears.

On the way up, it's all girls and guys and glitter and glam.

But on the way down, no matter the size of your bank account, not so much.

Lad, 13, calls cops to admit killing mum

A SCHOOLBOY called cops to confess he had killed his mother while she slept next to his newborn baby sister, and sent photographs of the horror to pals.

Derek Rosa, 13 (above), is now facing a first-degree murder charge in his mother's murder. He will be tried as an adult, but did not attend his first court hearing.

Rosa called 911 on October 12 to report he had just murdered his mother at their home in Hialeah, Florida.

He allegedly told the dispatcher that he had taken photos of his mother, Irene Garcia, 39, and sent them to his friends, saying: "I took pictures and I told my friends about it... is that bad?"

Rosa is also alleged to have said: "Right now, I have the gun with me. I was going to shoot myself, but I didn't want to. There's a knife in my room and there's a gun in the living room."

He is currently being held at the Miami-Dade Corrections and Rehabilitation facility.

Fact me!

IN Japan, letting a sumo wrestler make your baby cry is considered good luck.

Evacuation over 'bomb' donation

COPS are looking for the person whose donation to a charity shop included ammunition and a live explosive device, kicking off a bomb scare and evacuations of the area.

Employees of the thrift store in Janesville, Wisconsin, made the startling discovery while sorting donated items, prompting the evacuation of an entire city block for around three hours while authorities investigated.

The Dane County Bomb Squad was dispatched to the scene and collected the explosive device – identified by police as a "cluster bomblet" – so it could be safely destroyed.

"Employees followed safety protocols by telling store and donation centre bosses and safety teams, who then evacuated the building out of precaution for shoppers, donors and employees," Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Wisconsin wrote in a statement.

HOW Sport LEGEND LOUISE INSPIRED ACTRESS MICHELLE TO JOIN NAUGHTY SITE...

I was in The Crown & Magic Mike... and I go FULLY NUDE on OnlyFans!

By SIMON DEAN

news@sundaysport.co.uk

GROWING up in Hong Kong and the Philippines, Michelle Love dreamed of being in the limelight.

She said: "I think that as an only child, I wanted to stand out, to be famous."

Settling in London, the now 39-year-old grabbed every opportunity that was going.

She's worked as a dancer and as a film extra – Michelle has appeared in The Crown and in the movie Magic Mike's Last Dance.

Michelle laughed: "If you look in the hen night scene, you'll see me in an orange dress."

Curvy

But it is as a model that Michelle's really made waves.

She said: "I've been nude and topless modelling since I was in my twenties and enjoy it so much."

With 3DD boobs, curvy Michelle certainly has the bod for topless modelling.

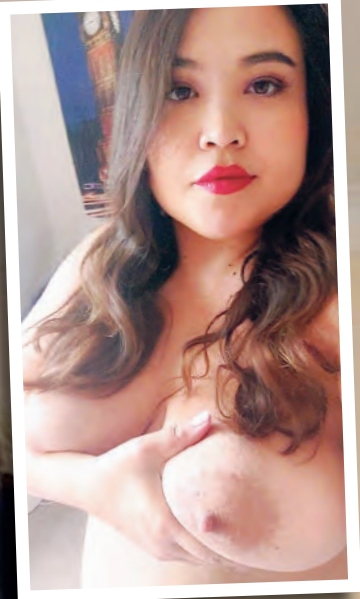

And now Michelle's reaching a vast new audience, thanks to OnlyFans and her friendship with glamour legend Louise Hodges.

She explained: "When lockdown hit, like many other people, I wondered what to do. I follow someone on YouTube who explained they were making a lot of money on OnlyFans and my friend Louise is doing it, so I thought 'Why not?'

Michelle goes fully nude on her OnlyFans page and says her followers love seeing her in TIGHTS.

She smiled: "That seems to be a big fetish with a lot of people."

NAUGHTY BUT NICE: Michelle stars on OnlyFans like pal Louise (below)

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Bexie,

DURING a heavy night on the ale I managed to pull what I thought, in my drunken haze, was a gorgeous woman.

She took me back to her place and soon got to work on my cock. Starting at the base, she licked and sucked me expertly and tickled the tip of my knob with her tongue.

By then we had progressed to the bedroom where she put her lips round my dick again and I soon exploded in her mouth.

Later I shagged her from behind before we both collapsed in an exhausted, sweaty heap.

When I woke in the morning I had a raging hangover and dashed to the loo to throw up. As I returned to the bedroom I saw the woman I had shagged – she was about 50, with droopy tits, and her false teeth were in a glass by the side of the bed.

I ran for it and it's put me right off sex.
What can I do to regain my enthusiasm?

NF, Lancaster

Bexie says...

AVOID pulling another moose by staying sober.

Dear Bexie,

MY missus used to dress up for me and play the slave to my strict master and obey my orders.

Obviously, I made the most of it and would have her sucking my cock as often as I wanted.

But that's all gone out of the window.

She works as an accountant but I was made redundant a few months ago.

Now she lays down the law.

She made a list of my household duties and a list of sexual services that she demands that I perform to order.

As soon as she walks through the door of an evening, I'm supposed to have a meal on the table.

Then I have to fondle her vagina with my fingers before going to work on her clit with my tongue to bring her to orgasm.

Then, after a nap, she demands oral sex all over again and on top of that a good shafting to boot.

I'm a wreck and in no condition to get a job.

What can I do?

DH, east London

Bexie says...

TELL her there will be no more nookie – and see how long she can last without a good seeing-to.

Cave sex was dark and dirty

Dear Bexie,

I RECENTLY went rambling for the first time. I thought it meant gently walking about on the hills, but it turned out to be a lot more energetic than that.

I hung back until a hunky-looking fella asked me to climb the side of a cave to get to the top.

But he led me in it and began to take off my clothes.

He sank his mouth down on my erect nipples and I grabbed his cock and took it in my mouth.

I made his cock wet and then got on all fours and waited for him to push it in.

He filled me up nicely, gripping on my waist and f**king me until I felt his cock go extra hard.

I wanked him off over my tits and then we both got dressed and rejoined the group.

Now I go rambling every weekend, but the fella's left the group.

Should I try to get another fella to do me in the bush?

TB, Lake District

Bexie says...

IF it's as much fun as you say, go for it!

Dear Bexie,

I WENT to a party and ended up shagging a blonde in a leather skirt.

It was strictly a one-night stand for both of us but I can't get her out of my head.

HR, Gwent

Bexie says...

GET yourself to a few more parties.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week BEXIE WILLIAMS has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Rugby players gave me a good rucking!

Dear Bexie,

I'M a divorcee and I've just returned from a holiday in Majorca – where I met another lady of a similar age.

She'd been a few times before and I was amazed at how many times she'd made it with younger men.

On our second night we got pretty tipsy in a bar and ended up in the apartment of a couple of rugby players who were on a club jaunt.

My new friend quickly got to grips with the dark-haired one, while I was massaged by his hunky blond mate.

I'd forgotten how wonderful it is to be touched like that by a man.

As he caressed me, my stud assured me that I had a great body.

He tweaked my nipples and they responded by hardening.

Massive

His hand then wandered down to my soaking panties and he slid his fingers gently inside me.

I climaxed almost immediately and as I was still recovering he slipped his massive erection into my pulsating pussy.

I was in a dreamworld as I reached heights of ecstasy I had never enjoyed with my husband.

My blond fella was pumping into me with such force I screamed out.

Dear Bexie,

I WORK behind the bar in a pub and a few weeks ago my boss said he'd pay me £1,000 if he could film us shagging.

I wasn't sure at first but I really needed some extra money, so I agreed.

After work that night, we went back to his flat and he had everything already set up to film our session.

I started off by giving him a blowjob before he pulled out and shot his load over my boobs.

After I'd worked him back to hardness, he f**ked me from behind.

A week later he offered me another grand if I'd sleep with him and two of his mates.

I had a dick in my mouth, arse and fanny at the same time.

The only problem is that I have still not been paid for either session.

But my boss assured me that he would honour our agreement and wrote a cheque for £2,000 – which later bounced!

When I complained to my boss, he just smiled and said if I didn't stop moaning I'd be sacked.

GT, Devon

Bexie says...

FIND a new job.

I'd had my eyes closed, but when I opened them I saw my new-found pal right up close as she was being taken from behind by her fella.

Swept along by the mood of the moment, I reached out and grabbed her breasts as they swung beneath her.

As I rubbed her titties, she lowered herself towards me and I snogged her, vigorously thrusting my tongue inside her mouth to meet hers.

Pounding

I'd never enjoyed such dirty sex.

After our fellas had spent their seeds inside us they took a breather while my pal and I got into the 69 position so that we could lick each other out.

After this we swapped partners and her fella shagged me and the blond hunk did her.

My pussy took a real pounding but I loved every minute of it and had another mind-blowing orgasm.

Once it was over the lads left, leaving me in the arms of my new mate.

But now I'm home I'm worried I might have developed lesbian tendencies.

What do you think?

TR, Birmingham

Bexie says...

YOU'VE just been re-awakened to the real joys of sex.

Lousy brother came to play while I was away

Dear Bexie,

I JUST got back from a six-month holiday touring the world and I'd been looking forward to seeing my hot blonde girlfriend again.

But when we got together it was clear something wasn't right.

Then I got a surprise when my younger brother called to her place for a brew. He seemed very sure of himself around her house.

Then I caught them at it when I got back from the shops one day.

I was walking past the kitchen window to the back door as I saw them.

She was bent over the ironing board as he shafted her from behind and I could hardly believe my eyes as I watched him sliding in and out of her snatch.

Then she turned round before sinking to her knees and taking his cock in her mouth.

She sucked on him greedily, taking his full length deep into her throat and then she got down on all fours so he could give it to.

She yelled in ecstasy as she climaxed and my brother shot his hot spunk over her arse-cheeks.

I gave them a few minutes to get dressed before walking in, but I didn't reveal that I had seen them.

They pretended that nothing had gone on and I felt insulted.

What can I do?

MY, Sussex

Bexie says...

YOU should just let her go.

BOWING OUT: Youngs

Youngs happy to hang up his boots

RUGBY UNION

BEN Youngs enters Test retirement comforted by the belief that England's future is in safe hands after an encouraging World Cup.

Youngs made his 127th and last appearance in Friday's bronze final victory over Argentina and ends his 13-year international career as the nation's most capped men's player.

Courtney Lawes has also confirmed he is bowing out of the Test arena and Jonny May is very likely to follow suit, while Dan Cole and Joe Marler are nearing the end of their time at the top.

The departure of so many experienced stars – three of them cap centurions – points to an uncertain future, but Youngs believes England can leave the World Cup with confidence.

"There will still be a lot of guys playing who have vast experience and who will be playing with the guys that will now start learning Test rugby," the Leicester scrum-half said.

"We have some really good leaders, some guys who have been there and done it and dragged the others along with us, along with coaches who gave us a really clear plan.

"It was a plan that suited the team and what we needed right now, which was stripping it back a little bit.

"Marcus Smith is not inexperienced because he's got a huge amount of experience for someone of such a young age and he's now finding playing full-back a little bit different for him.

"You've got Freddie Steward, Ollie Chessum, George Martin, you've got a lot of guys who are going to continue to grow.

"You then marry that up with the guys like Maro Itoje, Ellis Genge and Jamie George who will still be there.

"It's about getting that blend and continuity in the group, and also we've got good coaches.

"And there is that Englishness in us when our backs are against the wall.

"It's a bit of bloody-mindedness – 'right boys, we've got no option, we've got to roll our sleeves up'."

OUR CRICKET WORLD CUP NIGHT

NO RIFT IN MILLIONS SAYS LIV

England spinner insists squad is still together despite our shocking results

By PAUL THOMAS

LIAM Livingstone insists there are "no rifts in the camp" amid England's World Cup meltdown, shooting down former captain Eoin Morgan's suggestion that all is not well within the squad.

The defending champions have been in dire form since arriving in India, losing five out of their first six group games to lie rooted to the foot of the table.

No England team has ever lost as many games in a World Cup and with three matches still to play, including rivals Australia next up, there is scope for things to get even worse.

Morgan, the man who lifted the trophy at Lord's four years ago and is credited with revolutionising England's white-ball philosophy, remains close to the dressing room following his retirement 18 months ago and has sparked intrigue with his assessment of their campaign.

He suggested morale was as much of an issue as form and claimed "there is something within the team that is definitely unsettled".

Livingstone waved away that theory, defending the team spirit amid mounting pressure.

Amazing

"With all respect to Morgs, because everybody loves him in the dressing room, that's completely not true," he said.

"There's certainly no rifts in the camp, I can tell you that. It's not bowlers versus batters: we're a unit. One thing about unity is you probably get tested more when things don't go well; it's easy to say the dressing room is amazing when things are going really well for the team.

"From what I'm seeing, everybody is working their nuts off trying as hard as we can to turn things around.

"Things just haven't really gone our way and we haven't played as well as we want, pretty much all of us at the same time, which is disappointing.

"It's obviously not easy when you lose so heavily a few times in a row, but the boys keep coming back to training day after day.

"There's probably nobody more disappointed than what we are in that changing room, but everybody is trying to work together to change it."

Morgan was commentating for Sky Sports as England crashed to their latest defeat, a 100-run loss to hosts India, and his post-match assessment will make further uncomfortable reading for head coach Matthew Mott.

The Australian worked briefly with Morgan before he called time on his career last summer, but the latter appeared to suggest Mott needed to take a lead from Test counterpart Brendon McCullum in his dealings with the team.

"When you sit back and nobody has an answer in the changing room or we can't explain it (as pundits), you always compare things across formats," he said.

Painfully

"It has to be the intangible stuff, the feelings, the emotions. The preparation and the mindset has to change. It has to be tailored for that changing room. Maybe take a leaf out of Baz's book."

The long-term implications of England's losing streak has become painfully clear over the past 48

TMARE KEEPS ON ROLLING

ALL SMILES: Livingstone says there's no issue within the England dressing room hours, with their place at the 2025 Champions Trophy now in danger. Qualification for the secondary 50-over tournament used to come via the ICC rankings, but a little-discussed change was made in 2021 to tie it directly to performance at the World Cup – a shift Mott says he was first became only too aware of midway through Sunday's game.

England will need to climb from 10th to eighth to avoid being edged out, meaning they cannot afford to treat their remaining fixtures as dead rubbers.

"It is obviously very disappointing, but it gives us something to play for over the next three games," said Livingstone.

"I think Australia are a good team to be facing next.

"They are someone who, in the World Cups that I've played in, we've done really well against and they are obviously massive games. It will be a great way for us to start our fightback and hopefully we can turn it around."

■ Kent men's batting coach Alex Gidman has joined England women as an assistant coach ahead of their tour to India.

The former Gloucestershire captain, who spent four years as head coach at Worcestershire, joins Jon Lewis' staff as one of three permanent assistants, with a pace bowling coach set to be appointed in due course.

Gidman said: "I am delighted to join the England women's coaching team.

"There is a great blend of experienced and young players within the squad and I can't wait to get started and add value over the next few years during what is an exciting period for the women's game."

Champions Trophy spot in jeopardy

ENGLAND'S appalling show at the World Cup is breaking records. Here we look at just how bad it's been.

CHAMPIONS TROPHY TRAPDOOR

An alarming element of England's losing run is the possibility they could fail to qualify for the 2025 Champions Trophy.

A change in format tying qualification to World Cup performance means England will need to climb from 10th to eighth, putting pressure on remaining games against Australia, the Netherlands and Pakistan.

Bangladesh, also on two points, face Pakistan, Sri Lanka and Australia while Holland, Afghanistan, Pakistan and Sri Lanka are all on four points.

England's path to the Champions Trophy surely involves at least two wins including beating the Netherlands by a sufficient margin to swing the net run rate in their favour – Pakistan, as Champions Trophy hosts, will qualify automatically.

To that end, England's heavy losses so far put them in an even more difficult position. They suffered their heaviest ever defeat by runs, by 229, against South Africa and lost to India by 100 runs – not to mention Afghanistan by 69 – while their nine- and eight-wicket losses to New Zealand and Sri Lanka came with 82 and 146 balls remaining.

England are the first team to be bowled out in under 35 overs three times in a single Cup.

WORST DEFENCES

The West Indies won the first two World Cups then lost the 1983 final to India, who went on to reach the 1987 semis.

Australia finished fifth of nine teams in the 1992 group stage as defending champions and co-hosts, missing out by a point after Pakistan got a fortunate no-result against England having been bowled out for 74.

Sri Lanka, surprise champions in 1996, finished fifth in Group A in 1999. Their record ranked 10th of 12 teams, so is the nearest comparison to England's efforts so far – though even then, Sri Lanka won two games and lost only three.

Australia won that tournament, their first of three in a row before reaching 2007 quarters. They and India have since reached semi-finals as defending champions.

UNWANTED COMPANY

There have been 32 instances of a team losing five or more games in a single men's World Cup, including England and Bangladesh this year.

Zimbabwe have suffered five times and Bangladesh four, with three occasions each for Sri Lanka – all prior to their 1996 win – Kenya and the Netherlands.

Scotland, Canada, the West Indies and Afghanistan have done so twice apiece with one each for India, South Africa, Namibia, Ireland, the United Arab Emirates and now England.

Test-playing status has been the measure of the leading cricketing nations and six of those teams, accounting for 12 five-loss campaigns, have never played a Test.

Ireland and Afghanistan have played only seven apiece and Sri Lanka, while now established, had played only 39 up to the 1992 World Cup.

Zimbabwe and Bangladesh have played fewer than 150 and have always been among the lower-ranked Test nations, leaving only India in 1992, the West Indies in 2007 and 2019 and South Africa as close comparisons for England.

Eddie was so ready to stay with Aussies

RUGBY UNION

EDDIE Jones said he wanted to continue as head coach of Australia and has not had a job offer from Japan after his resignation was confirmed.

Rugby Australia chief executive Phil Waugh said they had reached a "sensible" agreement with the former England coach as his nine months in the job came to an end.

Jones said he "never" had a job offer from Japan and criticised media reports of an interview ahead of a World Cup campaign which saw Australia crash out in the group stages.

"I've got no job to go to, no job offer," he said. "My commitment to Australian rugby has been 100%. I did want to go on. Coaching a team is a bit like being in a marriage, you need commitment from both."

"I was committed to change the team. Rugby Australia at the moment cannot activate the changes, financial and political, to make real change in Australian rugby."

He continued: "I don't like to be in projects where I don't think they can really get to where they need to get to and I've made that decision."

"Rugby Australia probably doesn't think that and that's where the unity of our project is not in the place it needs to be."

"Sometimes you go in the bank and blow it up but you don't come out with the money."

Former Wallabies flanker Waugh said he "took Eddie on his word" when he denied reports linking him with Japan.

Waugh said: "Our focus will be reconnecting with the Australian public rather than where Eddie's going."

"We've come to a sensible conclusion, both for Eddie and for Rugby Australia."

"I don't think it changes the position we're at now, whether Eddie was to stay or go."

"This is hopefully a low

CHIEF: Waugh

point and a chance to reset. The most important thing is to unite."

Jones will officially leave his role on November 25 and Waugh said Rugby Australia would take "however long it takes" to ensure they got the "best possible coach".

He refused to be drawn on the position of chairman Hamish McLennan, who has faced criticism for replacing Dave Rennie with Jones on a five-year deal in January – weeks after he had been dismissed by England.

"Ultimately the board is responsible for this decision," he said. "It's speculation where we would have been if we had not made that call and Dave had stayed on."

"The results were not up to expectation. The board has made some bold calls. Hindsight is a wonderful thing... where we ended up was not good enough."

Rugby Australia earlier confirmed Jones' resignation as head coach following the Wallabies' failure to reach the knockouts of the World Cup for the first time.

"Rugby Australia can confirm that it has accepted the resignation of Wallabies head coach Eddie Jones, and he will depart the position on 25 November 2023," a statement from the governing body read.

"Rugby Australia thanks Eddie for his commitment to the Wallabies in 2023, and wishes him the best in his future endeavours."

CHECKANDCHALLENGE

TERRABB LOOKS FAB AT LINGFIELD

TERAABB has taken a step forward with each outing and can finally open his account in the BetMGM: It's Showtime Maiden Stakes at Lingfield.

Charlie Fellowes' charge did not really sparkle on his racecourse bow, finishing eighth on heavy ground at Sandown before improving on that to come home fourth on the Kempton all-weather, albeit beaten a similar distance of seven lengths.

However, his most recent outing at Yarmouth offers much more hope as he outran his odds of 25-1 to finish just a head behind Edge Of Darkness in a competitive maiden.

The winner has registered two subsequent triumphs, most recently at Doncaster on Saturday, while the third has also won since, so now it is time for Teraabb to boost the form.

Alacrity was beaten six lengths at the first attempt but should improve on that in the Bet £10 Get £40 At BetMGM Novice Stakes.

runner Albafiora among her half-siblings, so she looks a likely type to thrive over longer trips next term.

Andrew Balding edges her up from seven furlongs to a mile for this and given Alacrity looked in need of the experience on her initial start, she looks to have solid claims.

Checkandchallenge takes a significant drop in class as he lines up in the Listed Ben Marshall Stakes at Nottingham.

Winning

He was soundly beaten by runaway Queen Elizabeth II Stakes winner Big Rock at Ascot just under two weeks ago, coming home a distant fourth in the Champions Day Group One.

The four-year-old has not got his head in front for over a year now, but he has shown he can handle testing conditions – most notably when third in last year's Prix Daniel Wildenstein – so this might be a nice opportunity to end the season on a high note.

Her string of luckless runs eventually saw her drop to 80 and she duly regained the winning thread with a Racing League win in September, before another series of placed efforts.

She was far too keen at Newmarket on what was really testing ground, so perhaps a return to the all weather can work the oracle.

BURGESS BELIEVES HE CAN TAKE WARRINGTON BACK TO BIG TIME

SAM Burgess wants to get Warrington back on track after his surprise appointment as head coach but the former dual-code England international insisted he is "not coming here to blow this place up".

Burgess will become Super

By PAUL THOMAS

League's youngest head coach after it was announced in August he would take charge of the Wolves from the start of the 2024 season, having put pen to paper on a two-year contract.

He has no experience in the top job but, since the end of a distinguished playing career in 2019, Burgess has been assistant at South Sydney Rabbitohs and is relishing the challenge of what lies ahead. Warrington have been off-the-pace and although Burgess believes he can succeed where Daryl Powell failed, the 34-year-old ruled out wholesale alterations.

"The biggest challenges are internally," he said on Monday. "It's not huge, drastic changes, I'm not coming here to blow this place up, I'm coming here to make them better."

Style

"I like it when people say that (he has never been a head coach before), that's what makes it exciting for me. It's going to be a great challenge, don't get me wrong and we've got a lot of work to do."

"It's about being authentic. I'm not going to sit here and pretend I'm Wayne Bennett. I'm my own style of coach, I'll learn and listen but I'll also follow my instincts with the way I want to coach."

"I've had a bit of experience, I think that stands in my favour as well and I'm not trapped in any old way of doing things. I have a fresh mind, fresh approach and a fresh relationship with the players."

Burgess made a name for himself in the NRL with the Rabbitohs – co-owned by Oscar-winning actor Russell Crowe – with whom the Englishman had two stints in-between a spell at rugby union outfit Bath.

Most famously, Burgess led the Rabbitohs to NRL glory in 2014, winning the Clive Churchill medal as the Grand Final man of the match despite playing with a broken cheekbone.

Burgess, who represented England 24 times in rugby league and on five occasions in rugby union, accepts it was a bold call to appoint him head coach but he is bullish he can reward the Warrington hierarchy.

Better

"It shows bravery and a bit of courage from the people in charge," he said. "What's been happening in the past hasn't worked so sometimes you've got to step outside the box and try something different."

"I was in Warrington maybe 18 months ago doing a couple of talks and I could sense there was a bit of disappointment through the town. I think Warrington deserves better."

"One thing I won't do is I won't let the guys down who have employed me. If this place is in a better position from when I arrive to when I move on, then that's success to me."

"It's a great club, some passionate people involved. You can see why the club is in a great position. It needs a bit of work in the playing department and that will be my focus."

Burgess began his playing career at Bradford before leaving for Sydney in 2010 and admitted his preoccupation with the NRL in recent years means he has not kept as much of an eye on Super League.

But he added: "Ever since I got the job I've been watching three or four games a week. Do I know it inside out? No, I don't but I will do by game one."

"It was difficult leaving (Australia) in some respects but I'm super excited about the opportunity here. I think the pros outweigh the cons, I've just got to get used to the weather again."

Beautiful for Rice to play at Hammers

HOMEcoming WILL BE HUGE FOR DECLAN SAYS GUNNERS MANAGER

MIKEL Arteta believes Declan Rice's potential return to West Ham will be "beautiful" – if the Arsenal manager decides to play the midfielder in tonight's Carabao Cup clash.

The 24-year-old England international moved across London in the summer, the Gunners paying a record £105m to prise him away from the Hammers.

Beautiful

Rice, who captained West Ham to victory in the Europa Conference League final in the last of his 245 games for the club he joined at the age of 14, could be in line for his first return to east London having shone in the opening months of his fledgling Arsenal career.

"It will be his first time back at his old club and a beautiful moment for him, I think," Arteta said on the eve of the fourth-round tie.

"I think it is beautiful. I had a chance to do it a few times and then you really see what they think of you and what you left at the club."

Arteta feels Rice will receive a warm welcome from the West Ham fans, adding: "Every time you hear him talk about West Ham and what they did for him and everybody at the club, he cannot talk any higher of them, so hopefully they will be the same way towards him."

While Arteta suggested it was "likely" Rice would be involved in the game in some way, he was rested entirely for the 1-0 win at Brentford in the previous round.

The Spaniard made a total of eight changes for the victory in west London but insists the Carabao Cup – which he won twice as a coach at Manchester City – is still a major honour. "It's a competition that we have the chance to progress and win a trophy and our mindset has to be focused on West Ham," he said.

"I live it exactly the same as the Premier League (on Wednesday).

"I have the same thing in my tummy and the certain thing and same way to prepare and I'm going to be there, closer to the game, and I just want to win the game for sure.

"Even if you are doing rotations, I think the role of the players that are now committed to challenge for this trophy or for this game, I think it's critical for them to show what they can do."

Gabriel Jesus will not feature despite Arteta revealing the striker is "already pushing" to return from a hamstring injury suffered in a Champions League win at Sevilla.

Fixtures

Captain Martin Odegaard is again likely to be rested as he recovers from a hip complaint, while Arteta admitted to "concerns" over Thomas Partey's most recent setback.

The Ghana midfielder missed just seven games in five years with Atletico Madrid but has been plagued with a with Partey part of the midfield.

He took his form to a level not seen before in an Arsenal shirt and his manager wants him back – but will have to be patient.

"I think that he will be out for weeks," Arteta said of Partey's latest injury frustration.

Impact

"It is a big concern because, when Thomas is fit and available and he's been part of the team, we have seen what the results and the impact that he has on the team."

"This season we have more protection, especially for that reason as well because we know in the past two seasons what has happened and the impact that it had on the team, so we had to address that when making team selections this year."

SILVA HAS GOT SIGHTS ON GOLD

FULHAM boss Marco Silva has his sights set on a special trip to Wembley in the Carabao Cup – but warned against any complacency as they look to get past Championship high-fliers Ipswich.

The Cottagers head to Portman Road on Wednesday looking to secure a place in the quarter-finals.

After edging past Tottenham on penalties in their opening tie, Fulham then saw off Norwich 2-1 at Craven Cottage.

Silva is expected to again freshen up his side as Fulham look to take another step towards Wembley.

"Since I arrived, the aim is clear – any game is there for us to play to win," said Silva, who took Fulham to the quarter-finals of the FA Cup.

"People ask why a manager didn't respect the competition if they make seven or eight changes, I understand the question, but we have a squad with more than 20 players and everybody deserves a chance to play – we have been rotating even in the Premier League. "I am looking to be consistent as well and give players a chance to show their quality.

Silva added at his pre-match press conference: "This is a different competition, probably a competition that can give us a chance to get something special, which is to play at Wembley and we are fighting for it.

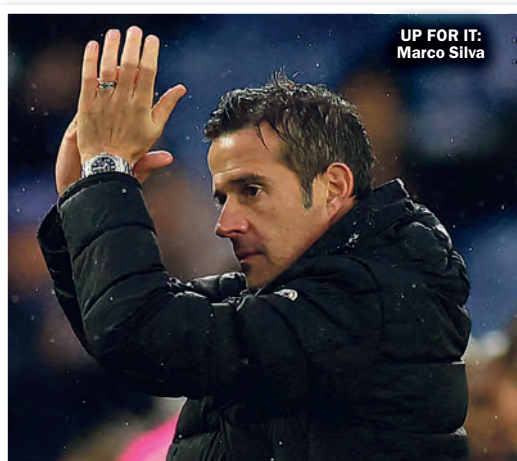

"We have shown our ambition from the first game in the Carabao Cup this season and I am sure that we are going to see that same fighting spirit that we are going to have to display to beat Ipswich."

Impressive

Kieran McKenna's well-drilled side are second in the Championship, nine points clear of third with a match in hand as they continue to impress following promotion last season.

The Tractor Boys fought back from 2-0 down to beat Wolves in the last round and Silva knows just what challenge awaits at Portman Road.

"The way they have been playing, not just the results they have been achieving, has been great for the football club. The way they have been doing it has been really impressive," said Silva.

UP FOR IT:
Marco Silva

"All credit to Kieran and his staff because it is not easy.

"I know very well what it means to be consistent in a competition like the Championship and they have been showing this.

"Even in the Carabao Cup they have beaten a Premier League club in the last round.

They have shown their qualities and their confidence is as high as possible.

"It is going to be tough for us, but our run in the Carabao Cup has been really good.

"We have had two very different games against Tottenham and Norwich, in which we did well. We want to keep in the competition and will have to do our best to go through."

PAULO OUT TO TOP PAL JOTA

PAULO Bernardo believes he can follow in the footsteps of friend Jota and create history at Celtic.

The on-loan Benfica midfielder made his first start for the club in Saturday's goalless draw against Hibernian after playing the bulk of the midweek Champions League draw against Atletico Madrid.

With the Japan midfielder likely to be missing for the next two months, Bernardo has a chance.

The 21-year-old watched on as Jota became a Celtic fans' favourite, on loan from Benfica and then after making a permanent deal to Glasgow before sealing a big-money move to Saudi Arabia.

He said: "I am working hard to make my impact. Jota made his impact and I want to make my impact.

"We are friends, I speak to him a lot, but now I have to make my own history and hopefully it's good like him. He told me Glasgow was good and that Celtic is a really big club."

Chelsea goalie to stay at Madrid

CHELSEA are set to swap Kepa Arrizabalaga for Real Madrid's number two.

And the Blues are set to lose a fortune on the unwanted gloveman.

Chelsea paid a whopping £72m for Arrizabalaga but he's been farmed out on loan to the Spanish giants this season.

They want to keep him but will shell out no more than £15m given his deal with the Londoners runs out at the end of next season.

By JOHN ANTHONY

And Real will throw in their current No2 – Ukraine keeper Andriy Lunin to sweeten the deal.

Some Blues fans think they made a mistake in getting rid of Arrizabalaga with replacement Roberto Sanchez not setting the world on fire. But there seems little prospect of Kepa coming back to Stamford Bridge.

He said: "It's true that Pochettino wanted me to stay and he told me that I was going to play, that he trusted me.

"But I thought a change would be good for me. I wanted a change.

"When Madrid calls you, everything changes.

"My intention is to stay for more than a year."
